

Teresa Carreno Soloist at First Philharmonic

Distinguished Pianist Is Heard in Tchaikow-sky's Concerto—Orchestra Brilliant in Berlioz's
"Fantastique" Symphony.

By Sylvester Rawling.

The Philharmonic Society began its seventy-second season last night with a concert at Carnegie Hall that attracted a large and appreciative audience. Josef Stransky, the conductor, made a new alignment of his forces by spreading his eight double basses across the back of the stage and by placing his trombones to the right, behind the first violins. The effect was satisfactory. His men were in fine fettle. They gave to the Berlioz overture "King Lear" and to the Berlioz "Fantastique" symphony, brilliantly played.

As to the Tchaikovsky "Marche Slave" an exposition that always was praiseworthy and sometimes was inspiring.

Teresa Carreno was the soloist in Tchaikovsky's familiar first piano concerto. This renowned pianist, who has not been heard here for some time, more than sustained her reputation. She played with ease, brilliancy, and with such power, and with such comprehension, that she deserved fully the half a dozen recalls that she got.

Leon Renay, assisted by Maurice Lafarge at the piano, gave a recital of French songs at Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon that pleased a large and friendly audience. His programme comprised songs both ancient and modern from Paradies and Girey to Massenet and Debussy. He finished with an English group illustrating Purcell, Graham Peck and Stickney.

Marie Morrisey, contralto, with Harry M. Gilbert at the piano, gave a recital at Aeolian Hall last night. Her songs were in Italian, French, German and English. She was full of confidence, her voice was pleasing and she showed no little intelligence.

WOMAN'S $5 WON $8,250.

Mrs. Clayton Backs Two Long Shots at English Races.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Mrs. Clayton, wife of Major Clayton, who has the reputation of being one of the handsomest women in English society, invested $5 on Playama, a rank outsider, which won the Cesarewitch at 50 to 1.

She placed her winnings on another outsider, Cantelver, for the Cambridgehire, and Cantelver romped home. His starting price was $2 to 1, so Mrs. Clayton pocketed $1,000 ($250).

MAY DE SOUSA WILL SUE.

Actress to Seek Divorce From New York Broker for Non-Support.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—May de Sousa, who is appearing here with the Wolf Hopper in "Miss Caprice," said today that she will apply for a divorce from E. Arthur Haines, a New York broker, when she arrives at Chicago, her home city, next week.

The actress accuses her husband of not having contributed to her support since their marriage in Haverstraw, N. Y., on April 24, 1910.

GIMBELS

Store Opens at 8:30 and Closes at 6 P. M.

The New Banking Law

May have a far-reaching effect on financial affairs, but not greater, in proportion, than this uncommon offering of

Men's Fall and Winter Suits and Overcoats At $17.50

will have on the pockets of men who like to be well dressed, but at the least possible expense.

GIMBEL $22 to $30 Qualities

prevail in both Suits and Overcoats—in every detail of cloth, cut and workmanship. The crude, the clumsy, the garish are omitted—in fact, you never can find clothes of that calibre at GIMBELS at ANY price. Here are the specifications:

Men's Suits At $17.50

Plain blues, browns, grays and blacks, in smooth and rough textures. Pin stripes, chalk stripes, mixtures—wide variety. Coats with soft rolling lapels—some with patch pockets; also conservative models. Trousers in medium or narrow widths, with plain or cuff bottoms. Medium or high cut waists.

Winter Overcoats At $17.50

Three-quarter length Chesterfield, fully lined with Skinner's satin in plain black or Oxford or Cambridge gray—the latter buttoning through. Double-breasted Ulsters in chin-chilla and other winter fabrics; shawl or notch collars. A group of Overcoats in various smart styles, though not many of a kind.

Fall Overcoats At $17.50

For the man who does not want to jump immediately into Winter Overcoats. Raglan or plain shoulder styles, in loose fitting model, also slightly form fitting, with belted or plain back in strikingly stylish fabrics. Three-quarter length Chesterfield Overcoats in black or Oxford gray, fully lined with mercurized silk; cloth or silk facings.

Every size from 33 to 48 chest in each group, in regular, stout, short and long proportions.

Above Criticism—These Shirts at $1.50

Plenty of "pep" in the patterns of these new Shirts at this favorite price. Clear-cut, crisp stripes, in black and colors, on fine white percale grounds. Stiff cuffs and plaited bosoms—shirts that are as timely as election arguments—and much more satisfactory. All sizes, and more than a dozen designs.

Take a Look at the New Neckties

One large enthusiastic delegation is marked 50c, way above the average in the character of the patterns and the richness of the silk—though we consider the Scarfs our usual 50c sort.

Another group at $1—in immensely stylish new effects, of which there is a great variety.

Men's Cape Gloves—Irregular at $1 Pair

Don't think for a minute that there are "plenty more where these came from." Such Gloves as these at $1 a pair are a "stunt" on the part of both makers and us. Neither of us goes into them as a G. R. Q. scheme.

Full weight, soft leather, proper shades of tan—fine! Get a pair—maybe two.

HATS OFF! To This Fine Occasion and NEW $3, $4 & $5 DERBIES On Again At $1.95

The maker of these fine Derbies (one of the best in America) had too critical an eye—was over particular—when he observed these Hats—just because they didn't come up to the standard of lightness he insisted upon classing them as seconds.

We doubt very much whether any of our most critical customers could tell the difference—and as a matter of fact too light a hat is often a source of much annoyance in the blustery weather.

There are 1,000 black Derby Hats in ten of the latest models. Included in the assortment are a number of hats with self-conforming bands—pliable and comfortable.

Even those men who don't absolutely require a new hat tomorrow can afford to anticipate an accident and have a new hat in readiness at such a low price as this occasion offers.

All Sizes and Styles for All Men, Young and Old, $3, $4 and $5 Derbies at $1.95

Fourth Floor.

Economy in These SILKS In Blouse and Dress Lengths

Also a rich variety of the weaves and colors now in the tip of fashion. Plenty of blacks. Difficult to find a single favorite silk not represented in the gathering by practical lengths for blouse or dress. Included are superb two toned, also gold and silver brocades, from the finest looms in France. Prices are—

45c to $5.50 Yard
Were 85c to $20

Cut Flowers For Saturday

Chrysanthemums at 5c, 10c and 15c each.
Carnation, 2c and 3c each.
Roses, 1c and 2c each.
A splendid assortment of House Plants of most varieties at the very lowest prices, Subway Balcony

Nine Styles of Men's Very Good Shoes at $5

It is a distinct merit of these Shoes that they come to us from a maker who has one of the largest plants in America for making men's fine shoes. For its mere size emphasizes the fact that they are so good that they require unusual facilities for turning out enough of them to meet the demand.

Seven of the nine styles are made on a last that is neither extreme nor old foggy—but just right. The other two are built on lines designed more for comfort than speed—roomy toes, heavy soles, Blucher lace.

Patent coltskin, vici kid, tan Russian, gun-metal calf. And usually button and lace styles in each.

For Shoe value of $5 we can't find the equal of these.

GIMBELS Announce Another Great Business Surprise In the SUBWAY STORE

The Stock of Women's and Misses' COATS, SUITS and DRESSES

Bought from Harry Wadler, 19 to 27 West 21st Street, New York. The Prices in This GIMBEL SALE Average LESS THAN 50c ON EVERY DOLLAR.

It was a forced sacrifice on Mr. Wadler's part owing to the fact that he is compelled to sail for Europe on the "Imperator" tomorrow morning—and by the fact that he had to arrange his workrooms and offices before he leaves—so this

FAST STOCK OF BEAUTIFUL SUITS, COATS & DRESSES—Newest Styles comes to GIMBELS—quite the finest value we can remember ever having purchased. A vast sum of ready money was involved, but this meant nothing to us when it enabled us to offer so early in the season such really wonderful values.

It is a well-known fact that Harry Wadler made no garments to retail less than $15 and these were very plain and simple—while the majority of his output retailed from $35 to $75.

Of course this announcement will bring thousands of women to GIMBELS tomorrow—we have made ample preparation to accommodate all comers—choosing will be simplified, every thing will be sorted for convenient selection—the display will be a large one, occupying the best part of the Subway Store, Balcony.
